Produced from 1884 to 1904, the Lightning Magazine Rifle was a dramatic innovation in breach loading firearms. The new Lightning Magazine Rifle is an innovation in manufacturing. One that integrates advances in metallurgy; the precision of CNC machining and the craftsmanship of hand assembly. Like the original, our Lightning Magazine Rifle is available with a 26" round, octagon, or half-round barrel. Choose a standard, carbine or pistol grip stock, checkered or bordered. Full dome blue is the standard finish but a variety of options are available.

THE U.S. FIRE ARMS STORY

U.S. Fire Arms is dedicated to preserving our heritage and the tradition of gun-making that began in the Connecticut River Valley more than 150 years ago. Like the originals, our guns are hand-made by skilled craftsmen, a rarity in today's world. We believe it is the only way to maintain the look and feel of the 19th century and, yet, derive the benefits of current technologies. The SAA, Pre-war and "Specials" are examples of our determined effort to produce historically accurate firearms of the highest quality.
